Personalized monitoring of the use of the software

In order to allow ADDINSOFT to better understand the ways in which its software is used and to fight against digital piracy, as well as to enhance its features, analyze potential errors and/or bugs and fix them, and to provide pertinent sales and technical support, certain personal data relating to the use of the XLSTAT software by the End User may be communicated to ADDINSOFT.

The data includes, in particular, the unique identifier assigned to the End User, their license number, country code, the license or product version in use, its expiration date, and the operating system and Microsoft Excel version the End-User's software is currently running on. It also comprises information relevant to the user's use of XLSTAT Products and ADDINSOFT services (statistical functions used, execution times, technical errors, etc.).

These data can be used to identify the End User. They are intended to allow ADDINSOFT to provide the End User with personalized support and/or services.

The End User may disable this function at any time in the XLSTAT Product Options without prejudice to their use of the software.

How data is processed?

Data controller: ADDINSOFT

Purposes and legal basis: Personal data collected and processed by ADDINSOFT are kept by ADDINSOFT in its quality of publisher of the software products and service provider to the users.

In particular, the data collected via the contact, support or quotation request forms allow ADDINSOFT to answer to user's requests. ADDINSOFT does not do any other processing of the recipients' data. Such processing of data is based on the legitimate interests of ADDINSOFT and the user related to the processing of these requests.

The data collected for downloading or ordering a software, or through quotation request allow ADDINSOFT to manage the follow-up of the relation between ADDINSOFT and the user, in particular for the execution of the license agreement attached to the use of the software, or in order to take steps at the request of the user prior to entering into a contract (quote request).

The data may also be used by ADDINSOFT to create a file of contacts, prospects and customers and send the user e-mails of information concerning ADDINSOFT, its activities or products or services, for ADDINSOFT's legitimate interests resulting from the exercise of its commercial activity and prospection.

ADDINSOFT undertakes not to transfer this data to third parties, except with the information and, if required, consent of the user or in the cases provided for in this policy.

Recipients and subcontractors: in compliance with the purposes outlined above, the user's data may be transferred to ADDINSOFT's staff and suppliers acting as subcontractors (such as its host, CRM provider, chat solutions, etc.), including some providers based outside the European Union. ADDINSOFT takes all measures to require these suppliers to comply with the applicable regulations and, where appropriate, that the transfers are based on an adequate level of protection or sufficient guarantees.

Retention and archiving: personal data are kept for a period of 3 years to allow ADDINSOFT to contact the user and archived for the duration of the prescription, duration necessary for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims (generally, 5 years).

Such periods are applicable from:

- The date of processing the request for users who used the contact form;
- Or the date of termination of the contractual relationship between ADDINSOFT and the user for users of software;
- Or the last contact from the user, if this date is later.

ADDINSOFT makes its best efforts to keep this personal data under appropriate security conditions in accordance with the applicable provisions, according to the current means of the art.

Rights on personal data processed by ADDINSOFT

Anyone who has provided personal data to ADDINSOFT has the following rights:

- A right of access and rectification of data;
- A right to the erasure of data (“right to be forgotten”), a right to the limitation of processing and a right to object to processing in the cases provided by the regulation in force;
